He explained that it is set for 5 to 10 years which is reviewed periodically, it is the basis for property assessment and it is not a law. He also said that Public Input is very important in setting up a Master Plan. He went over the survey results with the public. Three stations were set up for people to share their thoughts and inputs with the McKenna Associates. The Master Plan includes the survey, visioning session, 63 day review period and a public hearing.
